

Chalk Mountain Sunset

Dick Hacke said: "Understand drainage and the mountain works for you."

Not like fighting the unknown
Because there is science
And truth only does what nature wants

I watch the sunset march up Chalk Mountain
Like a nation's best tackling one small foxhole at the top

Dead, every day, in perpetuity
The mountain dies for me, and you

Some things can't be stopped:
The Sunrise
Global Warming

You leaving--
Nothing I can say or do

So, take me; let me be lost
Spinning down eternity
And yes, you too--
How you won't let yourself be stymied

How much more then
I will miss you
